PROFILE

I am a Front-End Developer, instructor and musician based in Toronto. I am passionate about technology and continuing my learning to build beautiful online experiences. I am detail-oriented and driven in completing projects. I am adaptable and fearless and I genuinely love helping people. Most importantly though, I am a positive and conscientious co-worker that is easy to work with. In my free time I love a good coffee, going to concerts, traveling and spending time with my family.
